

SyndicIT chooses Treeno Software of Portsmouth, N.H. as its choice for its core technology for document content management. Following an 18 months of testing, comparisons and evaluation it is clear that our selection of Treeno's system as our core technology will serve our customers in a high-performance manner and in world class fashion. Our testing clearly showed that from its design as a SaaS system from the outset, its industrial grade performance (for example: in one install it was easily processing over a quarter of a million documents per day) and the attributes of its user oriented interface all combine in an end user experience that will power high performance results and end user satisfaction in the multi-housing industry.
