SyndicIT Services Corporation Unveils Cloud- based Document Storage, Workflow Processing, and Exchange

SaaS eliminates cost and complexity of storing and handling electronic and paper documents

First in a Series of New Era, Multifamily and Commercial Industry Business Automation Systems to be Offered by the Company

Austin, TX June 21, 2010 – SyndicIT Services Corporation today announced its digital document and content management service designed specifically for the multifamily and commercial real estate markets. A full service offering, SyndicIT delivers secure digital document storage, making documents available via a Web browser anywhere, anytime eliminating the costs and risks associated with storing paper files. The SyndicIT system is perfect for leasing offices and enterprise use across corporate business departments like legal and human resources.

“The cost savings and security benefits are significant,” said Debra Radice, managing director for SyndicIT Services Corporation. “The time to address the tsunami of electronically based documents swamping the real estate industry is now. This product is the full package: secure offsite digital storage back-up, fully auditable access controls, document sharing, automated records retention and destruction, and government compliance reporting. This is a proven, industrial grade system already handling over a quarter of a million documents a day, and that’s just one customer” Radice added.

MEET “SYNDI,” THE DESKTOP AVATAR WHO DOES ALL THE WORK

A desk top ‘drag and drop’ avatar called Syndi ensures that all customer documents are captured and properly handled and filed. Syndi performs as a scanner avatar enabling electronic documents to be digitally captured without a scanner.

The SyndicIT system features ready-to-go document workflow integration, integration with QuickBooks and Outlook to expedite document and message filing, and hot key access to/from those and other database applications. Database integration and the exclusive “print to SyndicIT” function enable easy integration with property management software.

VIRTUAL PROPERTY ASSISTANT

As an authorized Kodak reseller, the company will deliver a Kodak Internet scanner with an enhanced interface for easy document capture, indexing and workflow processing. Called the Virtual Property Assistant, the hybrid system will be the first step in moving from property management to one-touch property automation.

“It’s time to establish an industry standard for document management,” said Radice further. “It’s time to untangle documents from the maze of ever-changing property management applications, and stabilize them within a single, unchanging platform, ” added Radice.
